BIODIVERSITY CORRIDOR PROJECT MANAGEMENT UNIT
PENRO, Mamburao
Occidental Mindoro

Dear Sir/Ma’am:

I have read your job announcement from the Facebook page of a colleague in environment conservation. I have the interest to explore applying for the Stakeholders Engagement Specialist position or other post deemed appropriate with my professional tract records.

With a master degree in Social Work and graduate certificate in Natural Resource Organizational Management were good combined foundations to science-based social/community developments. These core education backgrounds were enriched with more than 20 years of work engaged in diverse positions, projects and themes with relevance to biodiversity conservation and thereby equipping myself with comprehensive skills.

Recent relevant milestone in biodiversity conservation was the drafting of a 10-year provincial and city biodiversity strategic action plans in the Philippines as priority sites under the Protect Wildlife Project. My engagement as a facilitator/writer in Protect Wildlife Project exposed me to the technical and policy requirements, some procedures, models of operations and how the limitations among stakeholders’ groups, LGUs, communities and DENR were merged and worked upon to achieve conservation goals. Importantly, I acquired a depth of the process in the preparation of the biodiversity action plans on land-based biodiversity corridors with compliance to the PBSAP framework.

Much of my professional engagements were related to environment and social development where multiple themes were conceptualized and implemented and enhanced based on lessons (i.e. policy reforms, implementation of enforcements, livelihood strategies as incentive to the in-situ support operations, exposure to scientific researches and monitoring, management, others). The attached curriculum vitae has details on my professional backgrounds for your evaluation.

I am hoping to hear from you with merits on my application.

Yours in conservation,

DELMA Y. BUHAT
