MEMORANDUM

FOR : The Regional Executive Directors
Region IV-A CALABARZON
Region IV-B MIMAROPA
National Capital Region (NCR)

FROM : The Director, ERDB

SUBJECT : INVITATION TO THE 2021 ENVIOTECH ON 22-25 NOVEMBER 2021

Pursuant to Proclamation No.1414 s. 2007, the last week of November was declared as the National Biotechnology Week (NBW). This authorized seven (7) executive departments of government namely, Departments of Agriculture (DA), Education (DepEd), Health (DOH), Interior and Local Government (DILG), Science and Technology (DOST), Trade and Industry (DTI), and the Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) including the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) to craft a meaningful celebration that will showcase biotechnology and its beneficial application in science and technology, agriculture and food security, nutrition and health, economic growth, and sustainable environment.

The Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) through the Ecosystems Research and Development Bureau will be holding the 2021 ENVIOTECH with the tagline, "Promoting Biotechnologies for a Healthy Environment" on 22-25 November 2021 via Zoom. The Webinar intends to inform the public on the beneficial applications of biotechnology in improving the environment as well as encourage schools to strengthen R & D on biotechnology and its commercial applications. The activity also aims to educate participants on the following: 1) basic concepts of biotechnology and propagation of forest tree species, 2) tissue culture, 3) chemistry and biotechnology, and 4) bioremediation technology.

With this, you and at least 10 of your technical staff are invited to attend this webinar. Interested participants may register using the following links:
