Dear Sir/Madam:

In support to the country's celebration of this year's National Climate Change Consciousness Week in November with the theme, Klima ng Kinabukasan: Ating Alagaan, the DENR Climate Change Service through the CCITSD shall organize a Public Webinar on Code Red: The State of Climate and Humanity on November 23, 2021, Tuesday at 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. via Zoom platform.

The webinar shall highlight the key findings and outcomes from the IPCC 6th Assessment Report specifically, on the Physical Science Basis. DENR colleagues shall also present the implications of climate change to the relevant major ENR sectors and cite related initiatives to address these. Moreover, distinguished advocates from renowned environmental and climate change organizations in the country as well as the Climate Change Commission have been invited to share their responses and make calls to action. Expected participants shall primarily be youth representatives from various environmental and climate change groups and academic institutions.

In this regard, we are pleased to invite you and your colleagues to this significant event to learn more on the state of our climate and participate in the discussions. We have enclosed the Concept Note and Provisional Program, for your reference, please. The webinar link is provided below.
