Good day, Sirs and Mesdames!

The Biodiversity Management Bureau and the US Agency for International Development (USAID) through the Sustainable Interventions for Biodiversity, Oceans, and Landscapes (SIBOL) Project will be conducting a Training-Workshop on Ecosystems Services Assessment, Accounting, Valuation and Policy this CY 2021. Attached file provides the list of topics and dates to be covered in the Training-Workshop.

The Training Workshop aims to capacitate natural resource managers on how they will apply the principles and concepts of ecosystem services valuation, accounting, and assessment in managing the environment and natural resources, specifically in protected areas. The outputs in this workshop will then be used as inputs to the establishment of natural capital accounts at the national level.

In this regard, may we request your Office to identify and endorse technical staff to participate in the said Training Workshop. Kindly provide us the list of names and email addresses following the prescribed format provided in the attached file. You may submit the electronic copy on or before April 29, 2021 to the National Parks Division via email at npd@bmb.gov.ph.

Thank you and our best regards!
