Dear Director Felix S. Mirasol, Jr.,

A few months ago, we wrote to your office about our virtual seminar, Zero Waste to Nature through EPR, which is taking place from November 16 to 17, from 9 am to 12 noon.

It will provide participants with a clear understanding of the EPR scheme and the Waste Diversion Credit, as well as the specific roles and responsibilities of the Producer Responsibility Organization (PRO), the obliged enterprises, the certifying bodies, the waste diverters, the national government, and the LGUs. It will also feature innovative technologies and procedures for recycling or converting waste to fuel or energy. Attached is our flyer and you can also find more information here.

We earlier offered your regional office one free registration to our event and I am writing to check if anyone will be availing this. If yes, we kindly ask your participant to register here and use the code EPR-DENR to claim the free ticket.

If you have any questions, don't hesitate to get in touch. We hope to see you there!

Regards,
Patricia Mencias
