ACTIVITY REPORT ON 1ST QUARTER
SABLAYAN-CALINTAAN MARINE PROTECTED AREA NETWORK
(SaCa MPAN) EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETING

I. BACKGROUND

Marine Protected Area Network (MPAN) is an aggregation of individual MPAs or reserves operating collectively and synergistically at various spatial scales, designed to meet objectives based on ecological, social, informational, and administrative considerations that a single reserve cannot achieve alone, while also linking people and institutions involved in a harmonized and holistic initiative to facilitate learning and coordination in planning and administration.

Marine Protected Areas (MPAs) have been employed as an important coastal resource management tool in the Philippines to respond to the growing threats to fishery production and marine biodiversity (Aliño et al. 2002). A growing number of empirical studies have shown the potential benefits of MPAs to fisheries have been done (e.g. Alcala and Russ 1990, Roberts et al. 2001, May et al. 2002, Abesamis et al. 2006). During the last few decades, the potential value of MPAs to protect rare and threatened species is slowly being recognized and applied (e.g. establishment of dugong sanctuaries) in the country.

The Marine Protected Areas Networking (MPAN) Memorandum of Agreement between the DENR MIMAROPA Region, Provincial Government of Occidental Mindoro and with the municipalities of Sablayan and Calintaan was agreed to form a cluster and work together within their common coastal ecosystem to maximize resources and the benefits that will be gained from the collaboration with the assistance of the Department of Environment and Natural Resources.
